HOW TO FISH THIS WEATHER

MORNING

- Shallow cover, points, creek mouths
- First light (6:46 AM CST) → ~9 AM
- Use any ripple as cover

MIDDAY

- Shade lines, docks, deeper edges
- Electronics for bait height first
- Slow down once the sun is overhead

EVENING

- Revisit shallow shade as sun drops
- Topwater if the surface lays down
- Weekday traffic is lighter — work quiet pockets

FALL TRANSITION Largemouth plan: Follow shad into the backs of creeks and flats 1-10 ft; spinnerbait, squarebill and topwater at a fast pace.

BIOLOGY

BASS STAGE

Largemouth are in the fall transition — following bait into creeks and onto flats as water cools. Possible turnover window on stratified reservoirs — the bite can go off for a few days.

Basis: estimated water ~63°F — 75-day observed air record (NOAA ACIS) lagged for a lake (14-day response), adjusted by 1 nearby

NATURAL FORAGE

Threadfin and gizzard shad are the main food on Hamilton and Catherine, and in fall they start drifting back toward the creek arms, docks, and shallow points.

ALSO BITING

Crappie: brush piles, docks, and deeper timber with small jigs and minnows at dawn and dusk; the bite should improve as nights cool. Catfish: channel and flathead feed on warm nights; cut bait on deep channel swings and points.

PRESSURE

Weekday traffic — lighter than the weekend. Fish early, give ramps and swim areas room.

DAM & WATER — CONFIRM BEFORE YOU LAUNCH

ACCESS — BANK / KAYAK / BOAT

BANK

The best public bank access for this product is the Hulsey Hatchery Access (AGFC) on Lake Hamilton in Garland County, where day-use parking and public shoreline put you within a short walk of rocky points, docks, and shallow coves. Confirm AGFC day-use rules before you go.

KAYAK

Launch from the Hulsey Hatchery Access boat ramp when the lane is usable at current lake level, and confirm access notices before you load up. Are the quieter paddle days: drift dock rows and fish the first ledge with a shaky head or drop shot.

BOAT

Launch early from Hulsey Hatchery Access on Hamilton or the labeled Lake Catherine State Park ramp and plan the morning in three steps. Mid-morning, move to dock rows, brush piles, and rock transitions in the arms.
