HOW TO FISH THIS WEATHER

MORNING

- Shallow cover, points, creek mouths
- First light (7:01 AM CST) → ~9 AM
- Use any ripple as cover

MIDDAY

- Shade lines, docks, deeper edges
- Electronics for bait height first
- Slow down once the sun is overhead

EVENING

- Revisit shallow shade as sun drops
- Topwater if the surface lays down
- Weekday traffic is lighter — work quiet pockets

FALL TRANSITION Largemouth plan: Slow down: steep points, channel drops and remaining grass just outside the creeks, between the fall flats and the 15-30 ft winter depth; suspending jerkbait with long pauses, jig-and-pig or blade bait crawled down the slope.

BIOLOGY

BASS STAGE

Largemouth are in the late fall transition — water under the mid-50s, so bass are sliding off the shallow flats toward steeper points and channel drops near their fall feeding areas.

Basis: estimated water ~54°F — 75-day observed air record (NOAA ACIS) lagged for a lake (14-day response); no water-temperature

NATURAL FORAGE

Pressure on Red Rock should stay lighter than a weekend, but Cordova Park shoreline and the Whitebreast ramp corridor still see evening traffic after work.

ALSO BITING

White bass and crappie are the bonus mix when birds work open water over Des Moines River channel swings or along Whitebreast points — keep a small spoon or compact crank ready, but do not abandon the largemouth timber plan.

PRESSURE

Weekday traffic — lighter than the weekend. Fish early, give ramps and swim areas room.

DAM & WATER — GENERATION SCHEDULE

FIXED Dam-controlled water. No generation schedule posted by the operator for Mon Nov 16 – Wed Nov 18 — check the operator page the morning you fish; releases and pool levels change daily. Stay outside buoyed restricted zones.

ACCESS — BANK / KAYAK / BOAT

BANK

Walk the posted shoreline at Cordova Park, then rotate to Wallashuck recreation banks and the Roberts Creek public shoreline when the sun climbs. The near-calm south air favors a quiet stickbait crawl along timber that touches a short drop; keep a compact jig ready for the first brush you can reach without a boat.

KAYAK

Launch from the Cordova Park or Roberts Creek launches and stay inside protected arms for this window. The light south breeze is perfect for a silent Cordova paddle along flooded standing timber — parallel the wood, then stake out on the best outside edge once the sun clears the ridges.

BOAT

Run out from the Cordova Park, Whitebreast, or Roberts Creek ramps. Graph Des Moines River old-channel swings and flooded timber before you burn fuel on a long dam run — fish are relating to timber lines and rock that touch deeper water.

LURE BOX

TOP

One walking topwater for calm dawn shad activity. Skip bulky frogs at Red Rock until you find matted cover — most of the productive Cordova wood is vertical standing timber.

MID

Pack a weightless stickbait in green pumpkin. A 1/2-oz spinnerbait or squarebill for the windblown Whitebreast rock.

BOTTOM

A compact flipping jig with a craw trailer. A Texas-rig creature for thicker Cordova wood. A shaky head or drop-shot for clear midday water on channel swings.
