HOW TO FISH THIS WEATHER

MORNING

- Shallow cover, points, creek mouths
- First light (first light CST) → ~9 AM
- Use any ripple as cover

MIDDAY

- Shade lines, docks, deeper edges
- Electronics for bait height first
- Slow down once the sun is overhead

EVENING

- Revisit shallow shade as sun drops
- Topwater if the surface lays down
- Weekday traffic is lighter — work quiet pockets

FALL TRANSITION Largemouth plan: Slow down: steep points, channel drops and remaining grass just outside the creeks, between the fall flats and the 15-30 ft winter depth; suspending jerkbait with long pauses, jig-and-pig or blade bait crawled down the slope.

BIOLOGY

BASS STAGE

Largemouth are in the late fall transition — water under the mid-50s, so bass are sliding off the shallow flats toward steeper points and channel drops near their fall feeding areas.

NATURAL FORAGE

Green pumpkin and natural shad cover most sunny scenarios.

ALSO BITING

Brush and docks. Shallows early.

ACCESS — BANK / KAYAK / BOAT

BANK

Begin fishing Maple Creek Reservoir public shoreline near the ramp with a covering lure for largemouth bass, then camp on contact. Confirm park rules at Maple Creek Reservoir before you settle. Local access note: NGPC boat ramp: Main Lake ramp So of 91.

KAYAK

BOAT

Anchor the route on Maple Creek public ramp and open water. Idle wide, cast largemouth bass, keep wakes off bank rods. Maple Creek Reservoir pressure is real even.

LURE BOX

TOP

Topwater at dawn. Spinnerbaits along cover. Frogs over remaining grass.

MID

Jigs and craws. Texas-rigged plastics.

BOTTOM

Texas rigs under high sun. Drop-shot on clear water. Carolina rigs on deeper edges.
